

Good News

Together, we seek to know Christ and make him known.

From the Rector

Last week I read about an CNBC segment that aired recently about the keys to successful parenting. The segment featured Esther Wojcicki, an educator, parent, and grandparent, who raised up three daughters, all of whom are extravagantly successful in the workplace.

Her daughter Susan is the CEO of YouTube. Her daughter Janet is a professor of pediatrics, and her daughter Anne is the co-founder and CEO of 23andME. While I was duly impressed by the illustrious accomplishments of Esther's children, I was a bit concerned that the segment might place too much emphasis on grades, college entrance exams, and community service as a resume-building device designed to help kids achieve worldly success (ie: make lots of money) Reading on, I found that I was dead wrong.

The "keys to success" that Esther discussed in the news segment were actually values-values that will be familiar to any follower of the Way of Christ. First, Ms. Wojcicki stressed the importance of teaching your kids to care by example-through the way you live your life. Second, Ms. Wojcicki emphasized the need to teach kids about the importance of community-again, not just with words, but by example. Sound familiar? In encouraging parents to volunteer in the community with their children, Esther cited a 2106 that found that teens who regularly performed volunteer service were less likely to engage in illegal activities-again, no surprise here. Finally, Ms. Wojcicki emphasized the need to instill in kids a sense of purpose grounded in the public good (not individual interest), and a worldview that recognizes the inter-dependence of all life.

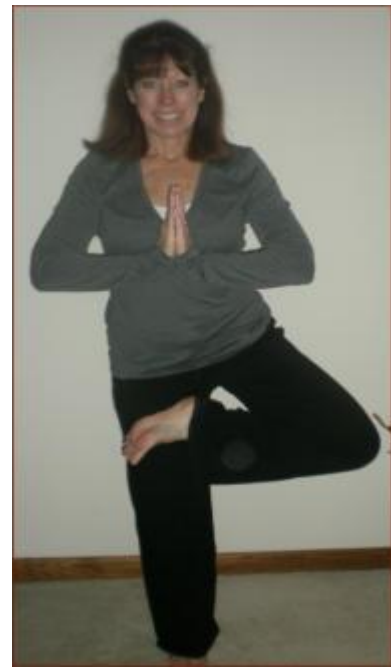

Clearly, Esther Wojcicki is a master parent. It saddened me that it took a headline citing her children's high-profile accomplishments and high-paying jobs to get her media attention. And so it is, too often, for us in the church.

How do we, who try to live out the values of radical love, service, and inclusion in the context of community get the word out to people, (young and old), seeking connection and a reality bigger than themselves? How do we increase our sphere of influence without all the bells and whistles a big parish can offer? We do it, I believe, the way our Father/Mother God, and our Brother/Savior Jesus taught us, by loving and serving our neighbors (inside and outside our doors) in concrete and discernable ways that offer them community and a chance to join the work of love, one step at a time.

At our recent retreat at Bellwether Farm your vestry spent the day deepening relationships and dreaming about future works of love. By day's end we had the beginnings of a plan that we'll soon share. Watch for news to come! Let's pray for each other, celebrate the signs of abundance all around us at St. Andrew and build a dream together!

Our soon-to-be newest members are Christine Higgins, Rebecca Dobrowoski, Megan Yoney, and Stephen Grau. Christine, Megan and Steve regularly attend our noon contemporary service and Rebecca attends the 10:30 AM traditional Holy Eucharist. We will celebrate using the contemporary service format and music on the 1st and 3rd Sundays.

Aerobics Fundraiser

Sue Corbett is at it again!

Combing physical fitness with a good cause, she will be holding a special aerobics class to raise funds for St. Andrew. The class will be on Saturday, June 29th from 10 to 11 AM. The positive effects of exercise are many, including improvements to mental health, along with burning calories. When you come to the aerobics event you'll not only be helping the church, but yourself as well, with an excellent workout Corbett-style. Sue is member of St. Andrew and a certified aerobics instructor, who has been helping folks get fit for over 25 years. Money raised from the special aerobics class will be donated to the St. Andrew Window Replacement Project and to help cover the costs related to our recent roof repair. Thanks Sue!

Happy 90th Potluck

Come and wish our own Louise Hassink a happy 90th Birthday at a Birthday party on Sunday, June 9th following the 10:30 AM Holy Eucharist. We will honor Louise with a St. Andrew Potluck so plan on coming to celebrate and bring a dish to share! No desserts please, as we will have a big Birthday cake and ice cream to mark the momentous occasion. Our "artist in residence" wants her St. Andrew church family to be a part of her special day! Happy Birthday Louise!

EAT YOUR VEGGIES

St. Andrew is a Geauga Family Farms CSA (Community Sourced Agriculture) pick up location. Join the CSA by purchasing a share and pick up fresh produce at the church every Tuesday or Saturday, June through October. Due to the unseasonable spring weather, the growing season is delayed. The first CSA pick up will be on Tuesday, June 11th and continue for twenty weeks.

You can sign up anytime during the 20 week season and pay a prorated cost - but why wait? To find out more, or sign up, go to: geaugafamilyfarms.org

Pentecost - June 9

On Sunday, June 9th we celebrate the giving of the Holy Spirit with the feast of Pentecost. The word means "fiftieth day" and is celebrated 50 days after Passover and in the Episcopal Church marked on the seventh Sunday after Easter. The liturgical color for the feast is red, and traditionally at St. Andrew we encourage parishioners to wear red on that day. It is believed that Pentecost marks the beginning of the church and the sending out of the church into the world, hence the "birthday" of the church. So, wear red and celebrate the Holy Spirit!

Roof Update

The final bill has been received and the amount in our JIF fund (started by the Vestry after the 2011 Capital Campaign) covered the cost! While the roofer has been paid, what still remains is purchasing new ceiling tiles and insulation. Two additional sections of the flat roof were not replaced. Rev. Lisa and the Vestry will be discussing options to replace those sections.

Join Building & Grounds

The Building and Grounds Committee meets monthly and is charged with the responsibility of taking care of our church building and the area surrounding it. The committee discusses maintenance issues and how to best address resolving those issues. Following the meeting, members work on projects that have been discussed which could be anything from changing burnt out light bulbs to routine painting. Who should join? Anyone! If you have a trade or skill be it construction or repair - great! But even if you do not, there are tasks that can be accomplished with little or no skills. Both men and women are welcome! Please join us at the church on Saturday, June 8th at 9 AM. One of the first projects to be tackled is the replacement of ceiling tiles and clean up of the Worman Room. You've probably heard the phrase "many hands make light work," well it's true! Save the date and join us in the care and upkeep of St. Andrew.

Healing Service

Every Wednesday at 11 AM, St. Andrew has an intimate Healing Service with Anointing, concluding with Holy Eucharist. All are welcome to attend, weather you need physical, mental, spiritual healing or just a mid-week lift.

St. Andrew Women Plan Fall Accessory Sale

The women of St Andrew closed out this project year with a Kentucky Derby themed luncheon on Saturday, May 5th. Beautiful hats were worn, and great food and fellowship were enjoyed by all in attendance!

In the Fall, we chose names and became Secret Sisters. A Secret Sister remembers her friend in prayer throughout the year, and secretly sends her cards and notes of encouragement. The identity of everyone's Secret Sister was revealed at our May luncheon with thanks to all for their loving support.

This Winter and Spring we chose to sponsor Project Dignity, where we collected feminine hygiene products for girls and women in need in Lake County. Over $150 was donated, along with two grocery carts full of feminine supplies, which we distributed through Project Hope for the Homeless in Painesville. Project Dignity was such a success that we voted to continue our collection and distribution of feminine hygiene products through the rest of this year. Product donations can be dropped off in the cart in the Narthex. Cash donations can be made through the Parish Office. Thanks to all the men and women who are supporting this worthwhile cause.

All the women in attendance on May 5th completed a survey, which included suggestions for other things we could do as a group to help our parish. The need for new front doors for our church was discerned to be our next priority. We are planning to host an Accessory Sale in early October to start funding this new goal. Please gather up all your seldom worn necklaces, bracelets, earrings and rings, along with purses and scarves and ask your family and friends to do the same. We will then reasonably price these items and sell them at an Accessory Sale open to all interested girls and women. Please contact Marybeth Primeau at mbprimeau@gmail.com if you interested on working on the Accessory Sale committee.

The women of St Andrew hope to meet socially in the Fall and the Spring, and to participate in a women's Retreat next Lent.

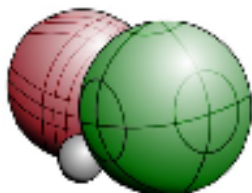

We look forward to seeing you and your girlfriends at our upcoming events!
